City Health Officer Keating Claims
That His Service Has Been Adequate and Above Criticism.

Dr. W. P. S. Keating, who has filled the office of city health officer for the past four years and is a candidate for reappointment, took exceptions to some things that were said anent the office and the manner in which the work had been done at the meeting of the board of aldermen Monday evening.

Among other things that Dr. Owen O'Neill said was that the work of fumigation as being performed at the present time was "absolutely inadequate," for the reason it was not thoroughly done. He said that these things could be and should be done right. Dr. Keating says that he does not agree with Dr. O'Neill and that the matter of disinfecting was done as well as it is possible under existing conditions. The work of fumigation is done half the matter of funisation as the fight to the finish. BOARD OF TRADE

After Social Supper at Hooker House Hears Address by Tax Commissione

A goodly number of the members of the Willimantic Board of Trade and their friends sat down to the second social supper for the season Tuesday evening that was served in the dining rooms of the Hotel Hooker. Landlord Winter had provided an appetizing repast that was thoroughly relished by those in attendance. The novelty of having the supper served in excellent shape was appreciated by the members and friends and it is intimated that some of the suppers to be held during the remainder of the winter may be served at the same place instead of in the banquet hall of the Board of Trade. After supper the company adjourned the banquet hall of the Board of Trade.

After supper the company adjourned to the lecture room of the Board of Trade in the opera house block and listened to an able address on Taxation by State Tax Commissioner William H. Corbin, who entertainingly and interestingly explained the perplexing subject in its varied phases.

Among those who were present at the talk in the lecture room besides members were many citizens, especially taxpayers, who are vitally interested in the question. The evening's social time was one of the very best that has been given under the auspices of the local Board of Trade.
